HANSEN COMPANY IN EXTENSIVE BUILDING PROGRAM HERE SOON

Bonde in Charge of Plans For Spur Track Construction

A spur track connecting with the Southern Pacific railroad lines here is now under way on P. C. Hansen property in west Niles. According to reports the Hansen Lumber Company is contemplating construction of a large group of buildings and other equipment necessary to the management of a distribution yard for their business over South Alameda county.

George Bonde, of the Hansen company, is said to be in charge of this project and construction on the track is being done by Worden and Forsythe, well known railroad building contractors in the west. When completed the spur track will border on Southern Pacific property, with the remainder extending onto the Hansen yard. Tentative plans are under way but so far officials of the Hansen company are reluctant to divulge them, until the work has progressed far enough to make an authentic statement possible.

Among the Best

Very likely this yard, according to popular opinion, when completed, will be among the best equipped and managed of its kind in this part of California. Due to close proximity of the railroad, shipments will be speeded up and deliveries made more promptly. In this way business will be expedited and patrons servved more efficiently.

Ground Conditioned

At present a force of men is employed at the yard to condition the ground for building purposes. All obstructions have been cleared off and a tractor has been employed to aid in smoothing and rolling the surface. Hansen property extends from the last business block on Main stret to the Southern Pacific subway, west.

Improvements

As yet no time limit has been set on building work, but it is believed that the very near future will see another great building development established in Niles, which will be one more token of the community's innate desire for wide-awake progress—an addition to the scores of other improvements already instituted in the recent past.

APRICOT PACK REPORTED LOWER IN YEAR 1930

California's apricot pack was lower this year by half than that of the year 1929, according to recent reports of the Canners League of California. Reduction is natural following a record pack like that of last year, the bulletin stated.

Case figures for apricot canning in 1929 were: Northern California, 3,616,920; southern California, 594,551 totalling 4,211471.

In 1930 the pack totals as follows: Northern California 1,615,376; Southern California, 406,739, making a total of 2,022,115.

Mrs. E. Ellsworth Entertains At Luncheon

Mrs. Edward Ellsworth entertained board members of the Niles chapter of the Parent-Teachers association at a luncheon Monday. Following this a delightful afternoon was spent by those in attendance.

Mrs. Ellsworth is the new president of the local group, and when the fall session opens she will take active leadership in all affairs of the organization.

Through the summer vacation months the association went out of session, due to all movements in connection with it being dormant during the close of school. Regular meetings of the organization will be started soon, although as yet no definite date for such has been set by officials.

DEL MONTES LOSE BASEBALL GAME TO LESLIES SUNDAY

Second Successive Victory For Alvarado Players

Leslie Salts again thrilled baseball fans who attended the game played at Alvarado Sunday with the Del Monte team No. 7. Their unusual playing ability was displayed to its fullest extent, and the result was another victory for home players, by a score of 16-1. With two successive games to their credit they are regaining their almost lost reputation.

Due to Degermark's outstanding pitching no Del Monte player reached first base until the fourth inning. His former record of nineteen strike-outs was broken Sunday by two more than formerly, which placed twenty-one strike-outs to his credit.

All of the Leslies did their share of slugging, and only one error was made. This record shows what the boys can do if they are given a break. At present about all they need is plenty of self confidence, and baseball fans can do their part by giving them cooperation and encouragement at the games.

Three-base hits were made by Dutra and Christiana. Two-base hits were delivered by Ferry, Correia, Rose, Searles, Soito, Dutra, and Degermark. Errors were chalked up for Rose, Hennesy, Christiana, and Larry. Degermark struck out twenty-one, and Marian six.

Following is the lineup and result of the game:

Southern Pacific Company May Move Shops to Newark

Rumors are abroad to the effect that the Southern Pacific Railroad is contemplating removal of its shops in San Francisco to Newark. If this proves to be so it is expected that work will be started on its location here in the very near future, as already a block signal system is being installed which is more elaborate than absolutely necessary unless some extensive project is in view.

At present traffic on the Newark line does not reuire such an outlay in equipment and any great expenditures by the company might be said to indicate future improvements and development.

During the period of installation of the new signals it has been necessary to close the Dumbarton bridge highway, and other roads parallelling the railroad tracks.

Several years ago the Southern Pacific company purchased a large acreage of land here, and according to plans made at that time a freight terminal and shops were to be built, bordering on the edge of San Francisco bay. Therefore, these plans may at last reach completion and arrangements may be made to start actual construction soon. This would be beneficial to Newark, and another great payroll would result and business as well as real estate dealings would be stimulated by men who would be employed by the company, and who would have to make their home in and around the community.

GARDEN OF ALLAH BECOMES MECCA OF DANCE FOLLOWERS

Prizes Won by Newark People Saturday Evening

Saturday night the Garden of Allah was the scene of an unusually successful benefit ball, which was sponsored by the Stove Mounters union of the Wedgewood plant at Newark. Over six hundred tickets to this affair were sold, and the dance floor was literally packed with merrymakers.

An additional attraction to the musical program was a broadcasting amplifier supplied by Joe Blacow's radio shop. Music was more than doubled in volume by the use of this innovation. At the close of the entertainment door prizes were awarded to M. Marshall, of Centerville; Joseph DeValle, of Newark, and Mrs. M. A. Linn, also of Newark.

Much credit for the success of this affair was attributed to a committee composed of N. Turnbow, chairman, Joseph Andrade, Louis Perry, Joseph Perry and W. Hazelton, all of Newark.

Recently the Garden of Allah, which is conducted by Leo Vincent, has become a real mecca for pleasure seekers, and he reports that it is becoming especially popular for private affairs, mostly those sponsored by clubs and lodges.

DAVID E. MARTIN PRESENTS BUDGET TO SUPERVISORS

Require $12,215,322 for Operating Plants In 1930-31

According to a budget presented to Alameda county board of supervisors by David E. Martin, county superintendent of schools, $12,215,322 will be required to operate schools in the elementary and secondary classes this year of 1930-31.

This is an increase of $598,385 over last year's total of operating expenses of $11,616,946. A portion, approximating half of this sum, will be paid by the state, through funds appropriated on district tax rolls and the national government under rehabilitation apportionment plan.

Of the entire sum, $1,591,449 will be placed on the county-wide tax rate for support of elementary school, $1,292,255 on county-wide general tax rate for secondary schools and $54,254 to pay tuition of Alameda county students in junior college institutions outside of the county.

Remaining county proportion of the budget will be raised by taxation of the forty-seven school districts in the county in accordance with district school expenditures.

ALAMEDA COUNTY HAS DECREASE IN MARRIAGE PERMITS

Loss of Seventy-Six Shown In First Half of Year 1930

Alameda county showed a loss in number of marriage licenses for the first half of 1930, while the state total was seventy-four short of figures for the first half of 1929. This statement was made by Dr. Walter M. Dickie, state director of public health.

Figures for Alameda county were given as follows:

First half of 1930, 1667; first half of 1929, 1698; loss twenty-nine.

State total for the first half of this year was 24,002, compared to 24,076 couples who took the vows during the first half of last year. June was not a busy month for Cupid, comparatively speaking, as decline was shown when the comparison, was drawn with last year.

COACH PATTERSON WINS PLACE ON RIFLE TEAM

George Patterson, a member of the Turlock Rifle Team, has again qualified for the national Rifle championship matches, holding the second high score in the elimination contests. He will be a member of the team which will attend the shoot to be held at Camp Perry, Ohio, during September.

Patterson was among the high score men last year at the Camp Perry matches and his friends in Pleasanton are wishing him even better success this time.

NEW NAME FOR INSTITUTION HAS BEEN SELECTED

Dr. J. Hal Cope Is Placed at Head of Board of Directors

PLANS WELL UNDERWAY

Finance Drive Will Begin Within Week, Dr. Cope States

The papers were drawn up at a meeting held in Pleasanton, Wednesday morning and immediately forwarded to the Secretary of State, Sacramento. The corporation is to be one for non-profit, the application papers revealed.

The board of directors appointed for one year, in addition to Chairman Cope, is as follows: F. E. Hartzell, secretary, T. H. Silver, Claude Smallwood and Dr. M. E. Eastman, all of Pleasanton.

Name Changed

Changing of the name of the organization from the Three Link Hospitaol Association to the Community Hospital of Pleasanton Township, also was among the acts completed this week. It was felt by the board of governors, of which the following are members, Jerome Arendt, chairman, Chas. A. Gale , Crawford Letham, Dr. J. Hal Cope, Claude Smallwood, T. H. Silver, and F. E. Hartzell, that if the support of the entire community was to be enlisted in the drive, the hospital must be a community project, and forthwith entered into an agreement with the association, which has sponsored the movement for the hospital, to change the name.

The agreement with the Three Link Hospital Association is tentatively that it will rent, from the hospital erected here, the required number of beds to care for its members. It is said that the fees from this alone will more than care for the overhead of the institution.

Use Two Banks

Among other announcements made this week was one to the effect that payments on the units purchased in the hospital may be made through either the First National Bank or the Bank of Italy, according to which institution the subscriber regularly transacts business with, thus making the project still more of a community asset.

The Bank of Italy was voted trustee for the funds, by the board of directors this week. In setting up a trustee for the funds, the subscribers are assured that their money will be used for the purpose for which it is subscribed, as the moneys will be placed with the trustee for the express purpose of building and equiping a hospital

Excellent judgement was shown in the selection of a board of directors, according to popular opinion. Heading the group will be Dr. Cope, who with Dr Eastman, another director, will have charge of the caring for patients. The doctors will be relieved of the business worries of such an institution for there are two bankers, Silver and Smallwood, to care for the financial end. Then in the center of this group is Hartzell, a druggist, who is well versed in the need of the purchase of supplies.

Wonderful Set-up

Thus, it has been pointed out, the management of the hospital will be in capable hands for the first year. In the years to come each person having subscribed to the hospital will have one vote for each unit he owns. If the management of the hospital does not suit the subscriber it is always their right to change the directors, it was said

The following men have charge of the various districts: Chas. A. Gale, District No. 1; Claude Smallwood, District No. 2; Dr. J. Hal Cope, District No. 4; Thomas Arendt, District No. 4; Thomas H. Silver, District No. 5; Crawford Letham, District No. 6; and Dr. M. E. Eastman, District No. 7.

The seventh district, being handled by Doctor Eastman, consists of the outlying sections, Sunol, Dublin and Santa Rita, included.

Plan in Brief

In brief the plan for the financing of the hospital is as follows: for a given amount payable each month, this amount being sufficient to permit the hospital to be erected at once, an insurance policy is issued to each subscriber for one and one-half times the amount given. The policy is of endowment form and will be paid in cash at the end of the endowment period, or at once in case of death of the insured.

"The above plan has met with the hearty endorsement of the general public," one of the directors stated this week, "and it seems but a matter of a very few weeks before Pleasanton can boast of sufficient funds raised with which to erect a thoroughly modern hospital."

J. E. COLLINS DEAD

J. E. Collins, of Newark, died at 1 o'clock Tuesday morning, August 26. Services were held in St. Edwards church in Newark, Wednesday, the body being shipped by train to Peoria, Illinois, for interment.

He is survived by his widow and two sons, Edward and James, all of Newark. Mr. Collins was the superintendent of the moulders at the James Graham Manufacturing company.

Robert G. Abbey, who laid claim to being the first white child born in Oakland, passed away Thursday, August 21, at the King's Daughters' home in Oakland, where he had been a patient since April, 1929.

Cabin Home

A cabin was the birthplace in 1851 of the "oldest inhabitant" of Oakland at about the place where intersection of Thirteenth and Oak streets is now. During the last years of his life he lived with a sister, Mary Oakland Abbey, near Newark.

Abbey said there might have been other children of Spanish families in the district, but they were, he claimed, born outside of what later actually became the city limits of Oakland.

Son of Sailor

Abbey was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Abbey. His mother came around the Horn from New York in 1849, and his father, a Scottish sailor, came to Oakland that same year. The couple was married in San Francisco, and later established their cabin home in Oakland.

Christened "Oakland"

"Oakland" was just beginning to be known as a municipality when Abbey's sister was born, therefore when christened she was given "Oakland" as a middle name.

For years Abbey made his livlihood by renting pasture land and gathering mushrooms for sale during the season.

Association asked that the shipment be made up of hens. Announcement of the intended shipment was made by Fred Rogers, local game warden.

Donald Patterson, of Newark, returned from a voyage to the Atlantic coast recently on a Pacific liner. He expects to leave on a trip to the Orient soon, and if his plans mature will be gone for several months.

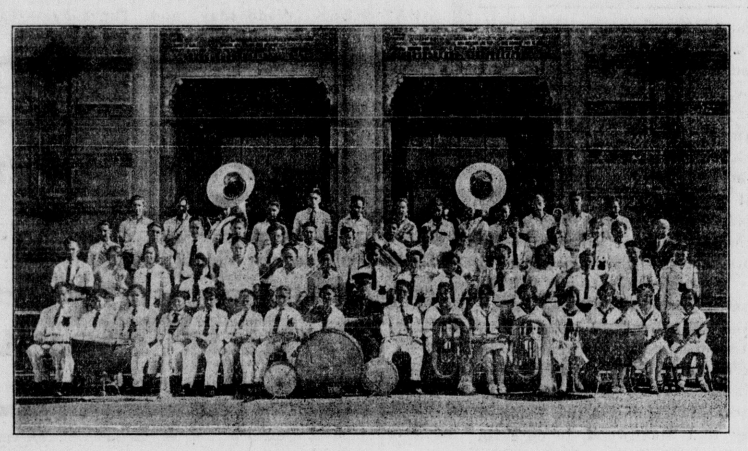
WASHINGTON UNION HIGH STARTS ACTIVE A

Largest High School Band In State



INSTRUMENTAL MUSIC TAUGHT IN W. U. H. S. PROVES TO BE OF HIGH CALIBRE IN STATE TESTS

A very fine department of instrumental music is being developed at Washington Union High school. Exceptional opportunities are offered students to learn to play a musical instrument, to become members of a large band or orchestra, and to become intimately familiar with some of the world's most beautiful music. The school owns a considerable number of orchestral and band instruments, to the extent that Washington High's band, supplemented by a number of players from Washington township elementary schools, was rated as the best equipped class "B" band in the state in the last California State Band Contest. While the orchestra has not yet quite such complete instrumentation, the school owns several of the larger stringed instruments like cellos and string basses, so that students who do not own their own instruments may nevertheless find an opportunity of playing in either band or orchestra.

While the department can thus offer the free use of some instruments to students, it is true that students who own their instruments invariably make the best progress, so that whenever possible they should plan to purchase instruments. The cost of most standard band or orchestra instruments is not excessive, ranging from $15 to $25 or more for fairly satisfactory violin outfits; $15 to $45 or more for clarinets, cornets, etc. Saxophones and some other instruments are somewhat higher. It is desirable to secure as good an instrument as one can afford. The department cooperates with parents and students desiring to purchase instruments, helping to secure better value than might otherwise be obtained, and during the past three years has saved students several hundred dollars in this way.

Full credit is given for work in instrumental music just as in any other subject. Music has won a permanent place in the curriculum of every leading high school in America. Educational authorities believe that a modern education must give training in how to live as well as in how to make a living, and with modern working conditions providing more and more leisure time it is being realized that there is no substitute for music.

America, demanding the best in science, industry, efficiency, and general standards of living has at last determined to have the best in music. And so throughout America great bands and orchestras are found in hundreds of high schools, playing not the trivial trash of passing popularity, but the loftiest and most inspiring masterpieces of Beethoven, Tschaikowsky, and the world's other immortal composers. Washington High is abreast of the times in offering training in music, and it should be a matter of gratification to our people that last April, Washington township entered the largest school band ever competing in any California state band contest from any school, one hundred and five players making the trip to Sacramento.

This was the first time our boys and girls had ever taken part in such a contest. They placed fourth in class "B," defeating several other bands that were veterans of previous contests, and scoring 354 points against 371 scored by the highest band. Losing in 1930 by only 17 points, the band is determined that in 1931 it will bring the state championship to Washington High. This will be possible only provided there is sufficient enrollment in the department during the coming year, as it takes an immense band nowadays to stand the slightest chance of winning a California state championship. It will also take the hardest kind of work on the part of every player, but is a not impossible goal.

John E. Kimber, instructor in instrumental music at Washington High for the past three years, has had unusual training and experience in this work, studying under some of the foremost musicians in the country. He was for several years a member of the Stanford band, was conductor of the Palo Alto Symphony Orchestra for three years, and has also directed such great choral works as Handel's "Messiah."

The band plans to open the coming school year with a series of concerts in several local towns, many of the players having practiced all summer long in preparation for these concerts. A further announcement regarding the programs and dates will appear in the near future.

Union High School No. 2 First Institution of Its Kind In Washington Township

By DAVID E. MARTIN

Prior to 1856 a high school education in California could be obtained only in private schools. The first free public high schools were established in the larger cities and were supported by local government. In 1856, and again in 1866, the legislature authorized "high school departments" as a part of the state school system, but failed to provide the necessary financial support.

Our state elementary school system had been formed in 1853, and by 1858 we had 432 grammar schools in operation. In 1868 the College of California in Oakland was taken over by the state for a university. Thus, in that year, we had the Alpha and Omega—the beginning and the end of a free public system with the center, the high school, not provided for in our educational scheme. This condition led State Superintendent Hoitt to refer to the high school as "the missing link."

Various makeshifts were resorted to throughout the ensuing twenty-three years to fill the gap with the link connecting the grammar school to the university. In 1891 F. R. Fassett, of Livermore, was elected to the legislature with a settled purpose in his mind to make a high school education available for every boy and girl in California, including the rural area. The Fassett Law made it possible for several elementary districts to combine their resources and establish a high school. That same year "Union High School No. 1 at Livermore was created. In 1892 "Union High School No. 2 at Centerville, and "Union High School No. 3 at Hayward were formed.

So urgent was the need for such high schools that 112 were established in the ensuing six years, and, by the fall of 1928, 232 union high schools, employing 5299 teachers and enrolling 134,959 pupils had been established.

The name of your high school was later changed to "Washington Union High School." It made an humble beginning as "Union High School No. 2 with two teachers employed, twenty-eight pupils enrolled; a $14,000 investment for ground and buildings, and a total expenditure for maintenance of $6,440 for its first year. Its work has been well done and its formation fully justified. The healthy, consistent growth finally necessitated a modern plant on a more adequate site. This stands today as a monument to the forward-looking, community-minded, public-spirited people of Washington township.

The recent completion of the gymnasium, which this issue of the Township Register commemorates, is a matter of joy and thanksgiving for your people, your superintendent and his staff, and of approval of every passerby on the highway who believes that one of the chief purposes in education is "sane minds in sound, healthy bodies."

New Gymnasium Is Equi Rectify Physical A To Advanc

The Washington Union High School's new gymnasium when finished should be one of the most complete gymnasiums in this part of the state. All facilities for physical training, both for the normal pupil and for those whom special corrective work is advisable, will be provided.

Two large gymnasium rooms run through the center of the building, the larger one being 60x100 feet and the smaller 40x60 feet. The larger one can normally be used for large group work, indoor baseball, basketball and calesthenics. The smaller one would normally be used for apparatus work of all kinds, but as occasion arises can be used for class work. The large floor provides space for a full-sized basketball court, with ample side lines. For practice purposes it permits of two cross courts. The smaller floor of 40x60 feet can, of course, also be used for a practice court. Two large sliding doors permit of throwing these two floors together when it is desired to use the gymnasium as an auditorium for graduation or other large assembly purposes.

The main floor has side galleries in which can be seated a thousand spectators. One of the special features of these two rooms is heir great ceiling height and ample lighting. Standing on the floor of the main gymnasium with steel trusses and long rows of windows high overhead, one might easily imagine that he stood in the train shed of a great railroad. The large batteries of steel windows along each side can be opened and closed by a single crank operator, thus affording quick and easy control of the ventilation.

Opening off of the two main floors are the secondary rooms. On the north side is the boy's corrective room, which has shower and toilet accommodations so that it can be used as a dressing room for visiting teams and can also provide space for boxing, wrestling

On the south side of the main gymnasium is a similiar large room for girls' corrective work, together with rooms for the girls' physical director, nurse's room and rest room. Adjoining the girls' physical director's room is the girls' locker room. A large space in the southeast portion of the building has been devoted to batteries of girls' showers and dressing rooms. On the northeast corner of the building are storage rooms and a kitchen. Exits have been provided so that either gymnasium floor can be used by boys or girls during different hours or different times with out it being necessary for them to cross through any common corridors or come in contact with each other. It has also been so arranged that boys and girls can enter and leave the building after they have dressed for field sports through other entrances than the ones used by those returning to classes or coming in for the next class.

The building has been built of steel and reinforced concrete. The floors in all locker rooms and shower rooms are of concrete, while the main gymnasium floors are of spring construction finished with maple. The building will be steam heated. Powerful lights over the gymnasium floors give perfect illumination for night games. At the present time certain of the interior painting and finish will not be completed, but this in no way will interfere with the actual use of the playing floors.

The exterior of the building is of stripped concrete with a light coat of stucco. While the building harmonizes with the present buildings, it shows a distinctly modern trend with its sheer walls and sloping buttresses. The various levels step up in a most interesting mass and the building forms a worthy addition to the present high school group.

Twenty-One Teachers Retained for Instruction Of High School Students

With exception of two teachers, all the former faculty members of Washington Union High school have been retained for the school year of 1930-31. The new instructors are Mrs. Oleta S. Wood, teacher of English and Social Science classes, and Miss Iva Liston, physical education instructor for girls. Mrs. Wood is substituting for Mrs. Eula Wright, a resident for many years in this locality, who at the present time is enjoying an extensive European tour. Miss Liston is taking the position made vacant by the departure of Miss E. MacMillan, who has accepted a place with another educational institution.

E. B. Hodges is principal of the school, and other members of the faculty are R. M. Moore, English; W. E. Gravestock, social science; J. V. Goold, science; B. L. Webb, science; Mrs. Grace C. Jackson, commercial department; Hugh M. Kibby, shop; E. Marie Sandholdt, mathematics; John E. Kimber, music; Jess W. Regli, boys' physical education; Mrs. Josephine Morris, domestic science; Ada Jane Roberts, English and History; B. V. Taylor, social science; J. B. Hill, mathematics, science; V. E. Solvason, commercial; Lesda E. Sayles, art and vocal music; Mrs. Oleta S. Wood, English and social science; L. M. Wright, language; Miss Grace I. Knoles, library; Iva Liston, girls' physical education; William D. Mette, shop, and R. Aubrey Nicely, English.

Others on the school staff are Miss Florence Aust of Mission San Jose, secretary to E. B. Hodges, and Mrs. Edna Ebright, health nurse.

Altogether these people form one of the most efficient school teaching staffs in existence; skilled to a marked degree in their chosen occupation, and well able to carry on the all-important work of teaching young men and women of the community who are of high school age, the purpose of fitting themselves for better things in life, and who are striving to reach a goal that leads to the realization of achievement which follows both mental and physical development.

These men and women who have studied and worked for years to become competent for the project they have undertaken are well fitted for their places. Not only do they teach but they offer themselves to boys and girls as object lessons in their daily encounters, and in this way can do a great deal toward forming ideas of honor, cleanliness, and unselfishness. Pupils can see for themselves the result of consistently applied effort; benefits obtained by mental and physical exertion.

At this local institution boys and girls of the district are offered an opportunity to prepare themselves for almost any line of endeavor, if not complete, the courses at least give preliminary training, which can be followed up in colleges. Therefore, when improvements are made at Washington Union High school, and when such an efficient force of instructors are retained, students are only being given more opportunities for self betterment, and more chances to become the great and useful men and women of tomorrow.

PHYSICAL DIRECTOR POINTS OUT

By JESS W. REGLI

"What isn't worth waiting for isn't worth having." We have it under construction at the present time and when it is finished you will readily see why it has been needed ever since the main building was built. It will not only be a pleasure to the students of Washington Union High school, but to every citizen of Washington township providing you take interest in the education of your children.

A gymnasium is needed the year-round and especially in the winter months. In the past we have had to stay in crowded rooms during the rainy season. Now we can enjoy every day in the gymanisum and keep our mind and body fit.

During the later part of the football season we have rain. Before, we had to quit practice and the player's muscles would become soft, then a game would come up and the very first thing would be an injury. Now the gymnasium helps out here because the players can keep fit for all contests.

Basketball

Washington Union High school has not had a basketball team for about four years, although it is one of the best games that is played. The game requires speed, accuracy, and endurance. Basketball is an indoor sport and every person that has ever watched a game likes it immensely. There are bleachers enough in our new gymnasium to accommodate a large crowd and a heating system installed so one can sit and enjoy a good, clean, fast game of basketball.

Professor Hodges

Destinies of Washington Union High School are being guided by Professor E. B. Hodges, principal. His work in the past has been such that the future of the institution is assured.

Without the fundamentals of basketball one can never become a player. It takes one a long time to learn them but after one gets them down it takes more and more practice to become better. Passing the ball, dribbling, shooting, and pivoting are the main fundamentals. In the past years the game was not played because there was no place to play.

Track

There are many events in track meets which are taught in the gymnasium such as pole vaulting, high jumping, shot putting, discus throwing, etc. The idea here is to teach them the footwork and the coordination of their muscles—to get their mind and body working together. After they have this, then is the time for them to workout on the track.

Other Sports

Now there are students who never play football, basketball or follow the track but would like to tumble, box, wrestle, play volley ball, hand-ball, etc. We never were equipped for such, but in our new gymnasium all can be taught.

The opportunity will be given to every citizen of the township to enroll in night school physical education. Here is one of your chances to enjoy the gymnasium and to play games. There will be a great interest worked up where as we can form a schedule and play off our contests.

Community Center

Our gymnasium will be equipped so we can hold our social affairs therein. There are a great number held each year for the benefit of our students and parents. I am quite sure that it is the wish of the board and Mr. Hodges that every one in the township will take advantage of the privileges granted them to enjoy the new gymnasium which everyone has been waiting for a long time.

COURTESY MEANS UNSELFISHNESS ON PUBLIC HIGHWAYS

"Courtesy is a guarantee of safety when translated into action on the streets and highways of our State," according to Mrs. Jas. R. Whipple, safety chairman of Washington Township, who is cooperating with the Safety Conference of the California State Chamber of Commerce, in August Campaign to reduce the rising total of accidents and deaths which result from careless driving.

"What is meant by COURTESY, in relation to street and highway safety," continues Mrs. Whipple," is getting away from selfish motives when driving. Don't argue over the right of way. Don't insist on the middle of the road. Remember, there is no divine right to the highway.

"Great strides for safety have already been made in the past year, because the mass of people want it. They want safety for their children. They want safety for the aged. They want safety for themselves.

"When both motorists and pedestrians realize that they are individual factors in determining this safety, and cooperate towards that end, then time will be taken for the courtesy which means unselfishness, and carries with it the guarantee of a decrease in traffic casualties."

PROSAIC ICE BOX BLOSSOMS FORTH IN NEW FEATURES

Ice refrigerators have "gone modern" in some very interesting ways, according to an executive of the National Association of Ice Industries.

"Not only has the once prosaic 'ice box' blossomed out into a scientific, smartly designed cabinet," says this executive, "but new features even more practical have been added to gladden the housewife's heart and enlighten her day's work.

"The new model ice-refrigerators are equipped with automatic indicators—similar to motor-meters—which tell when it is time to re-ice. One style has doors operated with a foot control for convenience when approaching the refrigerator with both hands carrying food. Of course, in this model, the doors have regular handles, too.

"One popular feature of the new models is the easily accessible drain pipe for quick removal and flushing. They are designed for free circulation of cold fresh air and their insulation is well tested and approved."

MISSION INDIANS WIN GAME WITH SANTA CRUZ TEAM

In a baseball game played at Mission San Jose Sunday, August 24, the Santa Cruz Bears were defeated by the Mission Indians with a score of 9 to 13. A real battle ensued for the duration of play, for the Bears offered some real resistance, and victory was not easy for the home boys.

Fontes and Fields, for the Indians hit triples and several two base hits were delivered by other team members.

At present the Indians are leading the second division in their league, and the next play is scheduled with Berryessa at Berryessa, next Sunday. This is expected to be a real baseball battle, for the teams are pretty evenly matched, and the game will be strongly contested.

Samp Prices — Quality — Better Service

When Minutes Count

THERE are times on the farm when minutes mean dollars. They may even mean lives. Fire, accidents, or just the need for prompt information on insect pests or market prices—these matters demand good telephone service.

Good, dependable, clear, high-speed telephone service is a worth-while investment.
